1 . Inclusion of new members in the Cooperative

During Q2, our focus lay on enrolling individuals with a keen interest in entrepreneurial endeavors into the cooperative. These members should be willing to explore a range of enterprises to realise what will suit them to augment their personal and consequently their family income. As per our strategy, we have successfully enrolled 13 members into the cooperative during this period. These members possess a genuine passion for entrepreneurial ventures, actively seeking diverse enterprises to elevate their income. A total of Rs 2600 towards the members' share, along with Rs 650 designated for administration fees have been collected from the new members. By the end of the September 2023, the cooperative has a total of Rs 4,08,600 as members' share and Rs 1,21,050 as administration fees.

2 . New entrepreneur promotion

The Women Empowerment and Entrepreneurship Project has a primary focus on promoting new entrepreneurs.

One of the key deliverables of this project is to identify and support potential farmers for different farm and off farm enterprises. Through various activities and initiatives, the project has successfully identified 58 individuals this quarter who have the potential and interest to venture into broiler poultry, backyard poultry and mushroom farming. These aspiring entrepreneurs have been recognized as having the necessary skills, motivation, and dedication to establish successful businesses.

The project aims to provide comprehensive support to these identified individuals. This support includes training and capacity-building programs specific to each enterprise, providing technical assistance and guidance on best practices, required input support and market linkages, and offering mentorship to ensure the entrepreneurs have a strong foundation to start and sustain their businesses.

4 . Interaction with dairy farmers on value addition of the milk produced

An interaction between dairy farmers who are part of the Gruhaluxmi Cooperative and delegates from TATA Steel Foundation was held on August 17, 2023. This meeting was facilitated by ACCESS team, with the aim of exploring potential avenues for future collaboration between the Cooperative and the dairy farmers. The meeting was held at the Sanjapada Gram Panchayat meeting hall. Representing the TATA Steel Foundation, Mr. Ashok Das and Mr. Sridhar, who had traveled from the United States and Bangalore, respectively, participated in this discussion to understand the current dairy farming processes, milk production, marketing strategies adopted by the farmers and the scope of enhancement of milk value by processing in the community. Relevant data for the same was also compiled during the meeting.

The data is intended to be used as resource for future initiatives aimed at promoting Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs) tailored to the specific needs of the dairyfarmers. Mr. Ashok Das emphasized the need to establish a Farmer Producer Organization (FPO) among the dairy farmers that would effectively address marketing and other issues.

Furthermore, he encouraged that more efforts to focus on value-added dairy products and their marketing. He envisioned equipping the FPO with essential tools such as milk chilling machines and milk vending machines to streamline the milk and value-added product marketing processes. The meeting concluded with a assurance to foster a collaboration and progress with the dairy farming community.

5 . Entitlement Linkage Program

Under the entitlement linkage initiative, the project team provides support in the form of information about the benefits, eligibility criteria, required documents, and application process of the different government schemes to the members of the cooperative as well as the village at large. This initiative started with the objective of increasing awareness about different entitlements that community struggles to apply for due to lack of information and assistance. This doorstep facility that helps villagers overcome the struggles they faced earlier in applying for schemes, has been well received. Initially, it was offered only to the members of the Cooperative but due to high demand for such service, this initiative eventually covered all villagers.

During this quarter, 174 members have been linked with different government entitlements.
